

PRIVACY POLICY

This page is intended to inform users about how to manage this site with regard to the processing of their personal data, as set forth by art. 13 and 14 of the European Regulation n.679 / 2016 - General Data Protection Regulation. This disclosure respects and complies fully with Recommendation no. 2/2001 adopted by the European authorities for the protection of personal data, combined in the Group created by art. 29 of the regulation n. 95/46/CE on 17th May 2001, to identify some minimum requirements for the collection of on-line personal data and, in particular, the methods, times and nature of the information that the data controller must provide to users when they visit web pages, regardless of the reason for having visited such web pages, regardless of the purpose of the link. By visiting this site, data relating to identified or identifiable persons may be processed.

Please note that the consent mechanisms will be evident, concise and easily understandable; whether the original conditions for which consent was requested were to be changed, i.e. if the purpose of data processing has changed, further consent will be required pursuant to European Regulation no. 679/2016. All the consents collected will be kept apart from any other corporate documents.

Your personal data will not be disclosed and you are granted the exercise of the rights referred to in Articles 11-20 of the European Regulation n. 679/2016 by contacting Orologeria Luigi Verga SpA, Via Mazzini/via Dogana 3 - 20123 Milan.

The data controller is Orologeria Luigi Verga SpA, with registered office in Via Mazzini/via Dogana n. 3 - 20123 Milan.

The processing regarding the web services of this site takes place at the aforementioned company headquarters or at that of the provider responsible for the Internet services of our site and are only handled by technical staff of the Office in charge of processing, or by people in charge of occasional maintenance operations.

The personal data provided by users who request the dispatch of informative material (such as requests for information) is used only to carry out the service requested and is communicated to third parties only if this is necessary for that purpose.

Types of data processed

Browsing data

The IT systems and software procedures required to run this website will acquire certain personal data during their ordinary course of operation, the transmission of which is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols.

The aforementioned information is not collected to be associated with identified data subject; however, by its very nature, it may identify users through the processing and matching of data held by third parties.

This category of data includes, by way of example, the computer IP addresses and domain names of users who visit the site, as well as the URI addresses (Uniform Resource Identifier) of the requested resources, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file received in reply, the numerical code indicating the status of the reply from the server (successful, error, etc.) and other parameters relating to the operating system and computer of the user.

This data is only used to gather anonymous statistical data concerning the website use and to check that it is working properly. The data may be used to ascertain responsibility in the event of any hypothetical IT crimes committed to the detriment of the site or may be made available to the Judicial Authorities, if requested.

Data provided voluntarily by users

The optional, explicit and voluntary sending of emails to the email addresses provided in this website, entails the subsequent acquisition of the sender's email address for the sole purpose of responding to requests, as well as any other personal data provided in the message or through the forms available in the Online Services section of the website.

Personal data are processed with automated tools for the time strictly necessary to achieve the purposes for which they were collected.

Specific security measures are observed to prevent data loss, illicit or incorrect use and unauthorized access.

COOKIES

This site does not use third-party cookies, but only technical cookies for which no consent is required by the user.
